

* Doctoral level

Note: this graph represents data from a 2003 survey of working psychologists & information from NEA's website.

Pate, W., Frincke, J., & Kohout, J. (2005). Salaries in psychology 2003: Report of the 2003 APA salary survey. Retrieved September 13, 2007, from <http://research.apa.org/03salary/homepage.html>

National Education Association. (2006). Teacher salaries. Retrieved September 13, 2007, from <http://nea.org/neaodayextra/slaries.html>.

For additional information contact:

Dr. Joel Erion
Coordinator
School Psychology Program
jerion@edinboro.edu
814-732-2287
Butterfield Hall 117

or

Dr. Edward Snyder
Coordinator
Educational Psychology Program
esnyder@edinboro.edu
814-732-1099
Butterfield Hall 114

Or to request information please visit:

[http://www.edinboro.edu/
departments/graduate_studies
/request_information](http://www.edinboro.edu/departments/graduate_studies/request_information)

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

Become a School Psychologist at EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

Have a desire to help others?

Looking for a good career?

Thinking about graduate school?

Have you considered school psychology?

What is a School Psychologist?

- Expertise in psychology and education
- Holds at least a Specialist in Education (Ed.S) degree
- Consults with children up to age 21, teachers, families and all school personnel to help improve the educational environment
- Administers and interprets intelligence tests; achievement tests, and conducts social-emotional assessments
- Diagnostician of ADD, Autism, LD, and Emotional Disturbances
- Trained in individual and group counseling as well as crisis intervention
- Trains teachers, counselors and administrators on classroom behavioral management techniques
- Creates, examines and modifies behavioral management plans

School-Psychologist.com (2007). School psychology topics. Retrieved September 5, 2007, from <http://www.school-psychologist.comschpsy.html>.

http://www.edinboro.edu/departments/graduate_studies/request_information/

Where Our School Psychology Graduates are Living and Working:

State	DESC	Count
AK	Alaska	3
AP	Armed Forces Pacific	2
AZ	Arizona	8
CA	California	4
CO	Colorado	3
CT	Connecticut	2
DE	Delaware	2
FL	Florida	18
GA	Georgia	2
IL	Illinois	4
IN	Indiana	1
KS	Kansas	1
MD	Maryland	2
MI	Michigan	1
MO	Missouri	1
MT	Montana	1
NC	North Carolina	14
NH	New Hampshire	1
NJ	New Jersey	3
NY	New York	65
OH	Ohio	17
PA	Pennsylvania	215
SC	South Carolina	3
TN	Tennessee	1
VA	Virginia	13
VT	Vermont	1
WA	Washington	1
WV	West Virginia	1
	Total:	390

Why Edinboro?

Edinboro prepares its graduates to:

- Practice psychology at a professional level
- Provide assistance & expertise in assessing & treating problems experienced by children, schools & communities
- Identify & apply his/her unique talents while utilizing problem-solving & data-based approaches that allow him/her to work with children & families having a broad range of needs

Our program emphasizes:

- A scientist-practitioner model
- Respect for diversity among individuals, groups & communities
- A solid foundation of instruction, research & field experience, which reflects our current, empirically supported methods in psychology & education

We focus on:

- The application of empirically supported approaches to assist all children in achieving academic success, social competence, and emotional and physical health.

- * Receive a Master's in Educational Psychology, an Education Specialist Master's, and School Psychologist certification in only 3 years.
- * Learn in class and on the job with practicum and internship experience for credits.
- * Very reasonable Tuition
- * Graduate Assistant ships
- * Fully approved NASP and PA dept. of Ed.
- * Low faculty to student ratio
- * Evening and some online classes to accommodate your schedule.
- * University funds to attend conferences.

Sound Interesting?

Get more information about the program and how to enroll by reviewing the following website:
http://www.edinboro.edu/departments/graduate_studies/request_information/