Minor: Pre-Law (1089)

Student: _____ ID: @ _____ Term: _____

The pre-law minor provides students with a broad, timely, and liberal-arts-based introduction to law and legal systems and the impact of law on modern society. Beyond satisfying a general interest in the law, the minor benefits students of any degree program interested in pursuing a law-related career. Students may satisfy the minor’s requirements by taking courses in political science, business administration, criminal justice, communication studies, personal financial planning, philosophy, and psychology.

The pre-law minor is part of a broad array of pre-law and legal studies-focused programming at Edinboro University. For more information, please consult “Preparing for Law School” within the History, Politics, Languages and Cultures Department section of the catalog.
