I. Intent

One of Edinboro University’s goals is to provide a productive educational environment and a professional workplace that is based on trust, mutual respect and the integrity of all members of the university community. Such trust and respect are undermined when University employees and officials engage in amorous relationships with students or with employees for whom the individual has supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities. This policy acts to establish the professional standards expected of members of the Edinboro University community.

An amorous relationship between an employee, volunteer or official and a student not otherwise prohibited under this policy is strongly discouraged as it may create an actual or perceived conflict. If there is any doubt whether a relationship falls within the scope of this policy, individuals should disclose the facts to and seek guidance from the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations rather than fail to disclose. Failure to disclose a relationship as required by this policy could result in discipline or sanctions.

Student members of the Council of Trustees or the Board of Governors are not prohibited from having amorous relationships with other students under this policy because of their status as officials.

B. Amorous Relationships with Employees or Volunteers

All employees, volunteers, and officials are prohibited from entering into amorous relationships with other employees, volunteers or officials where one party has supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities concerning the other party.

Amorous relationships between employees, volunteers and officials not otherwise prohibited under this policy are strongly discouraged as they may create an actual or perceived conflict. If there is any doubt whether a relationship falls within the scope of this policy, individuals should disclose the facts to and seek guidance from the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations rather than fail to disclose. Failure to disclose a relationship as required by this policy could result in discipline or sanctions.

C. Relationships with Minors

Regardless of supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities, all employees, volunteers and officials are prohibited from entering into amorous relationships with persons under 18 years of age.

D. Disclosure of Relationships

Pre-existing amorous relationships where one party has supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities concerning the other party are not prohibited under this policy, provided the individual with supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities discloses the relationship to the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations within 30 days of the effective date of this policy, and an acceptable conflict management plan is implemented. The conflict management plan will be kept separate from any official personnel file. Contact information for the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations is included in this policy and can be found on the Edinboro University website.

Consistent with Board of Governors’ Policy 2012-01: Conflict of Interest, employees are required to report any conflict of interest involving an immediate family member, including a spouse, so that necessary and appropriate actions are taken to remedy or avoid the conflict of interest or potential for conflict of interest.

Third parties are not mandated reporters of any prohibited or pre-existing relationship between parties over the age of 18, but may report concerns to the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations.
E. Management of Conflicts

For pre-existing amorous relationships, the individual in the relationship who has or may have supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities must submit a written conflict management plan to the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations explaining in detail how the conflict will be managed. The disclosing employee shall submit the conflict management plan within 30 days of the effective date of this policy or upon notice of a change in circumstances that gives one party to the amorous relationship supervisory, instructional or professional responsibilities concerning the other party.

The Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations or Human Resources Social Equity Investigator shall review the submitted conflict management plan and work with the parties involved in the amorous relationship and with other appropriate individuals to make any necessary changes to the proposed plan to effectively and appropriately manage the conflicts. The Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations or Human Resources Social Equity Investigator is responsible for administering the conflict management plan and will notify appropriate individuals of the existence of the conflict management plan.

Conflict management plans may include, but are not limited to, altering supervisory or employment reporting lines; moving a student to another section of the same course; appointing a different individual to serve on an academic, conduct or evaluative committee; moving the parties to other positions of the same or comparable status and duties; or establishing alternative means of evaluation of academic or work performance.

If a relationship involves the Associate Vice President for Human Resources & Faculty Relations, the matter should be referred to the University President to address the conflict consistent within the mandates of this policy.

F. Violations

A violation of this policy occurs when an employee, volunteer or official: (1) engages in a prohibited amorous relationship; (2) engages in a pre-existing amorous relationship without disclosing; or (3) engages in a pre-existing amorous relationship and fails to cooperate in managing conflicts associated with an amorous relationship covered by this policy.

Violations of this policy by an employee or volunteer constitutes misconduct subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge or termination, in accordance with any applicable collective bargaining agreement provisions or State System or university policies. Alleged violations by students may be referred to the Student Conduct Office for review in accordance with the Edinboro University Student Code of Conduct. Alleged violations by officials may be referred to the appointing authority. Violations of this policy may lead to discipline or sanctions, as appropriate, regardless of how the violation is brought to the attention of Edinboro University or the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education.

Amorous relationships under this policy are consensual relationships. Conduct that violates local, state or federal law or relevant State System or Edinboro University policies should be handled pursuant to applicable policy or by law enforcement, as appropriate. Violations of this policy that result in administrative or legal claims against the State System or Edinboro University may result in representation or indemnification being denied to the employee, volunteer or official pursuant to 4 Pa. Code Chap. 39.

G. Reporting Violations of this Policy

H. Retaliation

No individual shall retaliate against another individual for making a good faith report or participating in a process under this policy. A complaint is not considered a bad faith report merely because the evidence does not ultimately support the allegation. Individuals are prohibited from knowingly filing a false complaint or knowingly making misrepresentations. If an investigation results in a finding that a person has knowingly filed a bad faith report or made misrepresentations, the reporting party may be subject to appropriate discipline or sanctions.

I. Confidentiality

Any disclosures made or conflict management plans developed will be kept confidential to the fullest extent possible under applicable law and policy.
